AN ART BOOK AND SOME OTHERS

Volume Makes Plea for Family Life

"Haven," by Katherine Cheer, is a book which speaks for the art of the American home. The author is a mother of three children. She has made two visits to Japan, which she describes as a country where the children are given the greatest attention and where they are made to feel that they are more important than adults. The book gives many suggestions for making the home a more beautiful and comfortable place for children.

Brief Essays That Deal With Prayer

Lumber Industry on This Continent

The editor of the American Lumberman has written a book on the subject of the lumber industry. He has visited many lumber camps and has talked with many woodsmen. His book gives many interesting facts about the history of the lumber industry and the conditions under which it is conducted.

"Who's Who" Appears With More Names

The new edition of "Who's Who" contains many more names than the previous edition. It is a valuable book for anyone who wants to know about the people who are prominent in the world of business, politics, and literature.

Basketry, Modeling, and Paper Weaving

Books on these subjects are very popular. They give many interesting ideas and suggest new ways of using materials. The author of one of the books has written in a clear and concise style.

Gossip of Authors and Their Books

The new edition of "Gossip of Authors and Their Books" contains many interesting stories about the writers and the books they have written. It is a valuable book for anyone who is interested in the world of literature.